When speaking with someone who has been harmed...

What's needed to make things right?

How can we make sure this doesn't happen again?